FOLKS GET HORSES USED TO FORD CAR ON GRAVES CO. TRIP

Second Grand Prize Raises a Big Stir in Livingston County.

Next Week Carlisle and Ballard Counties Visited.

BIG CAR IN FULTON TODAY.

"Mandy, ain't this glorious? Did you ever go so fast in your whole life? I'm going to have one of these here automobiles if I have to sell the west forty."

The speaker was an old gentleman, well past the allotted three score and ten, a wealthy farmer living between Murray and Mayfield in one of the little villages in the eastern part of Graves county. He, with his neighbors, had heard over the rural telephone that the Ford Touring Car, which is the First Grand Prize in The Paducah Evening Sun and Associate Newspapers' Great Voting Contest, was headed in their direction Thursday afternoon, and were out in force to witness the passage of the FIRST AUTOMOBILE that had ever visited that particular section of the country.

The old gentleman and his venerable life partner were being taken for a short spin in the Ford and were enjoying it to the fullest extent. Neither had ever seen an automobile of any description, hence nearly lost their breath when the throttle was opened a bit on a clear stretch.

At another cross roads The Sun party found a line-up of teams that had come in from the surrounding neighborhood. Two of this particular bunch of people expressed a determination to enter the contest and immediately went to work among their assembled friends securing subscriptions. Most of them said that they had driven over to see if their horses were afraid of automobiles and the car was driven up and down the road to give the equine students an education in motorology.

Too Much Rain.
The heavy rains of the past week have made the roads almost impassable in places so that it was necessary in driving from Murray to Mayfield to use the utmost caution in selecting the route and driving with care. In one low place it was necessary to borrow several panes from a worm fence and lay them crosswise for a distance of two rods. This made a corduroy bridge which was crossed at slow speed.

About the Route.
The trip made from Murray to Mayfield Thursday took the Ford and The Sun party through Linn Grove, Brown's Grove, Farmington and Sedalia, in all of which places the excitement created has been rivalled only by the interest in the larger towns.

Thursday afternoon and Friday were spent in Mayfield exhibiting the car to the live bunch of candidates who have entered in the Graves county district of the contest. The gentlemen who were with the car in Graves are of the opinion that the other counties will have to look to their laurels when it comes time to divide up the Grand Prizes for it is going to take much hustling to beat the live ones there.

Today Fulton candidates are being given an opportunity to see the prize they are working for. Early next week Carlisle and Ballard counties will be visited unless something extra-torrential in the way of weather happens to us again.

The Ford "T," with a roadster body, which is the Second Grand Prize of the contest, created as much excitement in Livingston county as the other car did in Calloway and Graves. The condition of the roads

LEOPOLD'S PLANS.

Brussels, May 29.—Leading politicians today are convinced of the thoroughness with which King Leopold is selling personal belongings, indicates his intention soon to abdicate in favor of his nephew, Prince Albert. It is understood he will make his home in Paris after resigning.

New York, May 29.—As the result of E. H. Harriman's new fad, outdoor life, a solarium will be built on the fifth floor of his residence here to cost $30,000. It is so arranged that it is possible to convert it quickly into a roof garden.

STREET CAR STRIKE.

Philadelphia, May 29.—A general strike of motemen and conductors of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company went into effect at four today. It is admitted that two-thirds of the surface lines of the city are tied up. Few downtown cars are running. Subway trains are moving. They are expected to be tied up before the end of the day. A mob this morning attacked a car on Girard avenue, near Fifty-first street and stoned passengers and the crew. The car was badly damaged. None was injured. Superintendent of Police O'Leary ordered a big detail of police to the troubled district.

THE MEAT ADVANCE.

New York, May 29.—Federal District Attorney Wise today assigned a deputy to investigate the charge that a combine exists among wholesale meat dealers doing business here, which includes all the pig packing houses, causing the price of meat to go up. Retail dealers declare the advance by wholesalers came without warning.

Use White Firemen

Atlanta, May 29.—A mail train left here today on the Central of Georgia with white firemen. This movement on the part of the railroad is believed to be the first step in the movement to abandon negro firemen on its lines. It is feared more rioting will follow if negro firemen are used. The government insisted that the railroad make an effort to use white men.

Cannon at Valley Forge

West Chester, Pa., May 29.—Joseph Cannon and party from Washington visited Brandywine battlefield today. Cannon was up early, notwithstanding his strenuous day at Valley Forge. This afternoon they will drive down the valley of Brandywine creek to Wilmington, Del., where they will take a special train to Washington.

Jap Admiral for Peace

Washington, May 29.—"No war ever started without a cause. What cause has either Japan or the United States to engage in bloody strife? Absolutely none," declared Vice-Admiral Uriu today. "The United States is the best friend Japan has, and Japan knows it." He went to Annapolis this afternoon, where he will be the guest of honor of his classmates.

did not permit The Sun party to leave Smithland for any distance, but the two days' visit of the car gave nearly everyone of prominence in the county a chance to look over their second chance to make a big winning. Princeton is the next objective point of this car.

Laymen's Rally Will be Held Tonight at Fountain Avenue Church—Assignment of

The session this afternoon will end the conference. The business coming up this afternoon will be a report of the district key man, Jerry M. Porter, on laymen's missionary movement, the selection of one more delegate to the annual conference; the selection of the next meeting place of the conference, which probably will be Arlington. The election of the licensing committee to examine young men, who wish to become ministers, will be a part of this afternoon's work. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the Love Feast will be celebrated. The Rev. N. P. Ramsey will be in charge.

A large number of delegates will return home this evening and tomorrow. All the delegates have words of praise for the hospitality of the Fountain Avenue church and the well planned and executed arrangements for their comfort.

The Sermon Last Night.

The Rev. A. C. Moore, of the Springhill circuit, preached last evening. His subject was "The Conversion of Paul," a theme he developed vividly. A large audience heard him. An old fashioned Methodist hand-shaking followed and an appropriate musical program was given by the choir, preceding the sermon.

The laymen's rally this evening at 8 o'clock will be led by T. B. King, of Memphis, president of the laymen's movement in the Memphis conference. Jerry M. Porter, of Clinton, will be a speaker.

Pittsburgh, May 29.—President Taft, accompanied by Arthur T. Hadley, president of Yale university, arrived here shortly after 9 o'clock today to attend the annual meeting of the Western Association of Yale clubs.

A great crowd met Taft at the station. When he appeared he was vigorously cheered. He was taken to the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin. He later delivered an address.

More Trouble Feared

Constantinople, May 29.—Secret advice received today from Adana indicate that the situation is rapidly getting beyond control and fresh massacres are imminent. Local leaders say if the trouble breaks out again they will lead an army of 20,000 soldiers to the affected region and completely stamp out the uprising. An imperial decree, intended to discourage increasing political agitation in the army and navy, and stimulate loyalty to the empire was read to the troops and marines today.

Domestic Trouble Leads to Joe Tidwell's Suicide

Florence Station, Ky., May 29. (Special).—Trouble over domestic affairs it is believed led Joe Tidwell, about 35 years old, to shoot himself through the head, death resulting almost instantly. Tidwell was a tenant and resided about a mile over the line in Graves county from Florence Station. He walked into the yard and pulled the revolver. Placing the muzzle near his head, he fired one shot and dropped dead. The suicide occurred last night about dark. Tidwell left a wife and two children and he was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. The burial took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Mt. Pleasant cemetery under the direction of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Tidwell left a note addressed to the Modern Woodmen of the World, stating that his nearest friends had turned him down and that is why he killed himself. He leaves a wife and a large family of children, the oldest being a boy 19 years old. He lived on the old John C. Park farm and had been a resident of that neighborhood for about eight years.

Coroner J. D. Boaz held an inquest this morning. Members of the coroner's jury were: R. H. McNeely, foreman; C. T. Shaffer, J. W. Shaffer, J. W. Sullivan, Oscar Thompson, J. T. Cooper.

Oil Men's Hearing.

MRS. CRANE WILL REACH PADUCAH NEXT THURSDAY

"Woman Who Cleaned Up Kalamazoo" to Look us
Over.

Will Speak at Kentucky Avenue Church.

SHE WILL MAKE INSPECTION

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, "the woman, who cleaned up Kalamazoo," and who has been secured through the efforts of the state federation of women's clubs and the state board of health to make sanitary surveys of the citizens, will reach Paducah next Thursday and will spend Thursday, Friday and Saturday inspecting the city.

Following her custom, as she did at Louisville, Lexington, Frankfort and Harrodsburg, Mrs. Crane will inspect the streets and gutters, the sewerage system, the tenement quarters, the city hall, the jails, the county almshouses, the hospitals, the market and all public institutions. Mayor Smith and County Judge Lightfoot will extend her every courtesy and opportunity to make a careful investigation and at the end of her visit she will tell the people of Paducah the faults and good points in their method of running a city. Everywhere she has spoken she has had immense audiences, and she has been outspoken in her criticisms of conditions.

Mrs. Crane is not a lecturer, but a housekeeper, with a practical turn of mind, who became interested in questions of municipal sanitation, and set about so effectively that she made Kalamazoo, Mich., her home town, a model of cleanliness and healthfulness. Then her services were demanded elsewhere, and she has adopted the gospel of practical municipal sanitary reform as her mission in life.

It is believed, that if the keepers of the city and county institutions, and the city and county departments will make especial efforts to clean up the premises under their charge and have everything in spot and span condition, Paducah will get a fine free advertisement out of the visit; for not only the press of the state, but of the country, and the magazines, as well, are following Mrs. Crane in her work.

Where She Will Speak.

Arrangements were made today by which Mrs. Crane will speak Thursday and Friday nights in the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church. Friday afternoon she will address the school children in the Auditorium rink.

DECORATION DAY WILL BE QUIETLY CELEBRATED HERE

Decoration day will be observed quietly in Paducah Monday. Few Union veterans of the civil war are buried in Paducah. As usual the postoffice will be closed with the exception of the hour between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning. The banks will be closed all day, and the Illinois Central railroad shops will be closed. Sunday will be Decoration day, but as customary the day following will be observed.

The Confederate veterans will not take any steps towards a celebration of the day, as they are busy preparing for the annual reunion at Memphis, beginning June 7. A meeting will be called next week to consider plans for attending the celebration. It is thought that a delegation of possibly 25 veterans may attend the reunion.

Monday afternoon a baseball game between the Elks and the Chess, Checker and Whist club baseball teams will be played and a number of stores have agreed to give their employees a half holiday.

Both teams will have some fast players. Lloyd, Robertson, Williams, Goodman, Sutton, McChesney and Grover Burns will be in the Elks lineup and Donovan, Hassman, Harbour, Bagby, Gladys Burns, Puryear and Fisher will play with the C. C. and W. team. Sutton or McChesney and Goodman will be the battery for the Elks and Bagby or Hassman and Puryear or Harbour will be the battery for the Chess team.

Excursions will be given on the river and many people will go to Illinois, where a more general celebration of the day will be held.

Reinstatement Refused.

Paris, May 29.—The deputies 336 to 141, rejected the motion for reinstatement of the postal employees who were discharged from their positions because of their connection with the recent strike.

FAMOUS GOVERNOR.

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—Ex-Governor T. T. Crittenden, 76 years old, died early today. He didn't regain consciousness after the stroke of apoplexy at the ball park Thursday. During his term as governor the Jesse James gang was broken up and the first anti-gambling crusade was begun. He was consul general to Mexico under Cleveland.

Retail Trade Review.

Business has been good this week according to the dealers, with better prospects still. The farmers have been busy planting crops, and have not been in the city on business, but the recent rains have stopped some farm work temporarily and a large number of people from the county were in the city today. Consequently, the merchants enjoyed a lively trade.

The best news of the week was the announcement that the Illinois Central railroad shops will open up with a full force before July 1. It was good news to the business men, and will put many employees back to their regular work. Other factories report a lively rush of orders, and business seems to be picking up in every quarter.

K. C. INITIATION JUNE SIXTH WILL BE FINE AFFAIR

Invitations have been issued for the initiation of the fifth class of candidates by the Knights of Columbus, Sunday June 6. From the reports Paducah will have many visitors for the initiation. The Fancy Farm Council, No. 1418, will be instituted, and the members will be initiated by the Paducah lodge. Some of the leading officials of the state will be present, and the interest in the initiation has grown rapidly.

The day will begin with the assemblage of the members in the council chamber, at 9 o'clock in the morning. The candidates will assemble in the club room of the Red Men's hall. At 10:15 o'clock the members and candidates will form a line of march and go to the St. Francis de Sales church, where at 10:30 o'clock high mass and the sermon will be delivered. "Te Deum" will be sung by the congregation at the close of the service, and the members will adjourn for dinner.

At 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon the members will assemble in the Red Men's hall, where the initiation ceremonies will be conducted. After the work is completed a banquet will be served, and addresses will be given by leading members. The first and second degrees will be exemplified by the Paducah council while the third degree will be exemplified by P. H. Callahan, district deputy, and his staff from Louisville.

Mail Carriers Picnic

Mail carriers and the employees of the postoffice have arranged a picnic for tomorrow on Livingston's Point, and a pleasant day is anticipated by Uncle Sam's employees. The trip to the picnic grounds will be made in gasoline launches, and complete arrangements have been made for the day. A fish fry will be enjoyed and a picnic dinner will be served.

Phone Extension Stopped

Louisville, May 29. (Special).—In a decision in the federal court Judge Evans declined to allow the Kentucky and Indiana Telephone company, through its receiver, powers to make improvements west of Paducah, so that connections could be made with nearby towns. The judge took this stand, when he found the interest on the bond was not paid.

L. G. Broyles Dies

Mr. L. G. Broyles, 45 years old, a truck gardener, died this morning at 5 o'clock very suddenly at his home. Twelfth and Ellis streets, while helping his wife get breakfast. Mr. Broyles had been suffering from kidney trouble for over a year. Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters, Mamie, Nellie and Maude, and two sons, Jack and Louie. He has four brothers, Crillian Broyles and Ed Broyles, of this city, Joseph Broyles, of Missouri, and James Broyles, of New Mexico. He was a member of the Twelfth Street Baptist church. The funeral will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence by the Rev. J. R. Clark. The burial will be at the Oakland cemetery, on the Benton road.

REV. BRIGGS STEALS MITE BOX IN STORE

Arrested and is Rescued by a Jewish Rabbi.

Once Great Preacher Admits
His Petty Theft.

Says He Cannot Resist Desire to Pilfer.

Will be Sent to Sanitarium for Treatment.

New York, May 29. (Special).—The Rev. George Waverly Briggs was arrested last night, charged with petty larceny. He was arrested on a similar charge April 20, when detectives followed him to pawn shops, where he disposed of many articles taken from drug stores. The charge was not pressed.

Postoffice Inspector Mayer, who knew Briggs in the south, and was converted by him, bailed him out on the first offense. Briggs lives with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Naylor, here.

Yesterday afternoon he walked into the drug store of Julius Klein, Madison avenue, and when Briggs thought Klein was not looking, he unfasted the contribution box of the Sunshine society, which devotes its funds to sending poor children into the country, and slipping it under his coat, went out. Klein had Briggs arrested. He admitted the theft.

A search of his clothing disclosed 40 pawn tickets, ranging in value from 28 cents to $40; also a hammer, a set of files and other queer things.

"I gave up parishes," he said, "because of their wrong doing. Now I have done wrong. I was conscious at the time, but could not help it. I could not resist."

Only a short time ago Briggs talked to men in the McCauley mission. His appearance is now pitiful. He looks haggard. He is only 57 years old, but he appears a man many years older. His son, Wood Briggs, who came to the station house last night, said if they could get his father off this time, they would send him to a sanitarium, as unquestionably he no longer is mentally responsible.

For the second time Briggs escaped a jail sentence, when his case came up in the Harlem police court this morning. The Rev. A. Bloom, Jewish chaplain of Bellevue hospital, appeared, saying Dr. Silverman, a leading Hebrew rabbi, who knew Dr. Briggs, was willing to assume responsibility for his good conduct, believing that what the poor wreck needed was care rather than punishment. Magistrate Krotel, referee, paroled Briggs in Dr. Silverman's custody. He will be sent to a sanitarium at once.

Dr. Briggs was one of the most brilliant and cultured ministers in the southern Methodist church. He was pastor at the Broadway church and at Owensboro, before his fall.

Work on Barges

Another barge of the West Kentucky Coal company was launched today in the Tennessee at the site of the old glass factory, where the barges are being built. This makes six barges and four flats that have been completed in the last month. The work of building the barges is progressing rapidly and the builders expect to turn out two barges a week, as it was first figured could be done. One barge and one flat have been taken to the mines at Caseyville, loaded with coal and were brought in port two days ago by the Egan. Two more of the new barges are at Caseyville, now being loaded with coal for the south. The steamer E. A. Volght arrived in port last night with two barges of logs to be sawed up into barge timber. The logs come from Dyersburg, Tenn., and are being sawed up by the Ferguson-Palmer mill.

Trouble Between Banana Planters and Steamship Company Serious

Washington, May 29.—Close attention is being given by Secretary Knox to the trouble at Bluefields, Nicaragua where there is a serious difference between banana planters and the Bluefields Steamship company of New Orleans, which, in its earlier stages, gave rise to rioting and strikes.

The trouble grew out of the price to be paid for bananas. Because of the increased cost of living the planters say they cannot turn over the fruit at the agreed prices. Secretary Knox has directed that all interests be given a full hearing.

GOOD MUSIC—GOOD ORDER—GOOD TIME

LORIMER CHOSEN AS SPOKESMAN

At Conference of Legislature Leaders.

Leaders Were Alarmed at Report That Senator-elect Had Formed Alliance With Gov. Deneen.

MANY BILLS ARE CONSIDERED

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—Senator-elect William Lorimer, Lieutenant-Governor Oglesby, Speaker Shurtliff and Representatives David E. Shanahan and B. M. Chipperfield, the Republican leaders in the legislature, at a secret conference formed an alliance, and Lorimer will be recognized as the spokesman of the combination. The conference was held because the leaders in question were alarmed over reports that Lorimer had entered into an alliance with Governor Deneen. Lorimer assured the other conferees that such was not the case, but that he wanted to be friendly with the governor. Lorimer is reported to have assured his friends that he was willing to bury the hatchet with the Republican leaders who made possible the election of Lorimer as senator.

The house passed Senator Landee's bill codifying the school laws of the state, the bill being endorsed by the state educational commission, the state teachers' association and other organizations.

The house passed, 79 to 48, the senate bill providing that in cases of disputed handwriting in question together with other handwriting, proved to the satisfaction of the court to be the genuine handwriting of the person claimed at the trial to have made the disputed instrument, shall be submitted to the jury for their examination. Chipperfield and Browne nearly had a personal encounter when Brown demanded a verification of the roll call. Shurtliff, who voted for the bill, gave notice that he would move a reconsideration of the vote.

Representative English's joint resolution, which submits to the people a constitutional amendment limiting the representatives of Cook county in the legislature to one-third of the total representation, failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote of the house. The vote was 87 for the resolution to 56 against.

The senate advanced to third reading the house bill passed yesterday, abolishing capital punishment in this state. The house bill requiring railroads to publish their time tables in towns through which their lines passed was killed by reference to committee.

The bill providing that convict labor may be used in cleaning up certain rivers in the state, including the Sangamon, was advanced to third reading. There is considerable opposition to the bill in the senate, and it will not pass without a struggle.

Senator Glackin made an effort to reconsider the vote on the house employers liability bill but failed.

The enacting clause of the nine foot sheet bill, passed by the house, was stricken out, and the bill lies dead and buried.

The house also passed the senate hazardous bill, one exempting dentists from jury duty and providing for reciprocity with the dental boards of other states; providing the supreme court may hear appeals in the merit of the appeal and that appeals to the supreme court may be had on the recommendation of a majority of Red Sox vs. Weilles.

The Red Sox will cross bats with the Weille team on the railroad shop diamond Sunday morning. A good game is expected. All who care to come out will see a hot contest. The following is the lineup for the Red Sox: C. Fuller, cf; J. Beck, p; S. Evans, 1b; T. Gourieux, 2b; H. Switzer, 2b; J. Cox, ss; W. Hanners, lf; J. Fuller, cf; T. Cathey, rf.

Red Sox vs. Benton.
The Red Sox will leave Sunday evening for Benton to cross bats with the local team there. The lineup for the Red Sox is: T. Cathey, c; W. Hanners, p; S. Evans, 1b; T. Gourieux, 2b; I. Beck, 3b; J. Cox, ss; H. Switzer, lf; J. Fuller, cf; C. Fuller, rf.

Tomorrow afternoon the Bloomer Girls' baseball team will play Chief Lloyd's Indians team at League park, and a lively game is expected. Unless the crowds at the games are larger there is little prospect that the games will be continued, as some of the teams have not met expenses. Lloyd's team has struck a gait now, and the bunch is playing fast ball, and fan-dom should turn out better at the games. Runyan will twirl tomorrow.

C. C. and W. Elks Monday
Monday the Elks and the Chess, Checker and Whist club baseball teams will meet for the first time this year. There has always been the keenest rivalry between the two clubs in athletics, and as business will be closed on Decoration Day the game will be attended by a large crowd.

A WELL COOKED DINNER
If you have a good cook is assured when you use a Gas Stove or Gas Range. The heat is steady and uniform, which is not the case with a wood or coal stove, and you can raise or lower the flame as you please—which, of course, is impossible on any other kind of cook stove. To make a fire, you simply turn on the gas and apply a match. To put it out, turn off the gas.

THE POPULAR GAME.

"Oh, Polly," said Jack with a dolorous look,
"Of flirting you've mastered the art;
You've played with me, jollied me,
brought me to book,
Till you've broken my heart!"

"Dear Jack," Polly said, and her eye flashed a ray
That dazzled him out of his wits.
"I'm awfully sorry! But Jack, dear—say,
Is your heart really broken to bits?"

"It is!" avowed Jack, "and for several days
I've been the forlornest of chaps.
You've battered my heart with your mischievous ways,
Till it's broken to tiniest scraps!"

"Then," said Polly, all smiling and dimpling with joy,
"Just give it to me, Jack, and then I'll play it's a new Picture Puzzle, dear boy,
And I'll put it together again!"

pink and white sweet peas. Pink and white hearts strung on pink ribbons extended from the chandelier to the four corners of the table. Pink and white ice cream, individual cakes and mints were served.

Shaved Husband to Get Church Money.
Chicago, May 29.—Shaving her husband with increasing skill on alternate days for one month netted Mrs. W. O. Smith $1 contribution for the missionary cause and a gold pin. The prize was a gift from the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Austin Methodist Episcopal church for earning money in the most novel manner.

There were other contributions uniquely earned but a unanimous vote of the society has awarded Mrs. Smith the first prize.

Mrs. E. G. Snodgrass worked so hard about the house that her husband gave her $1 to lay off one day. She did so, and that money was added to Mrs. Smith's missionary contribution.

tion of the burden. The system may be wrong, but it is not more wrong than the method of applying it. The small real estate owner has no means of escape, if he should desire one; but the unfair assessment and the loopholes for others to wriggle past the assessor, leave the kind of property, which cannot escape, to bear an unfair proportion. It costs just so much to run the city, county and state. That money must be raised somehow. If the taxing system is fair and the equitably enforced, then all forms of property will bear the minimum burden; but if part escapes, its share is apportioned among all the rest.

Tax reform is not confined to Kentucky. It is a national question. Intelligence and honesty have been too long divorced from assessment and taxation, as well as other public functions.

SOME STORIES AROUND TOWN

"Shine," the gloss of whose black countenance furnishes the excuse for his nickname, has just returned from a short season as "razorback" with a circus, which he joined in Paducah. The official duties of a "razorback" with a circus are to erect the flowing canvas and to carry the heavy things from the train to the lot; lower the canvas, return the things to the car and ride on to the next stand, where he performs the same rite over again. Thus it may be seen that "Shine" was a very important member of the executive staff of the show. Without the tent and paraphernalia on the lot, it would be a sorry circus indeed.

The reason "Shine" left, as he expressed it: "I done et so much they fished me."

According to "Shine" the greatest offense a "razorback" with a circus can commit is to eat his fill. "Shine" received $3.00 a week. He slept on a strip of canvas on the ground after the tent was erected and before it was lowered. Also he snatched moments of unconsciousness riding on the flat cars on which the circus paraphernalia was transported.

"Shine" found the ground soft, because it rained on him most of the time. But that didn't prevent his sleeping. The only thing that interfered with "Shine's" sleeping was the boss canvasman.

The meals, like everything else with the circus was of the routine order, easily grasped and made an orderly habit. Black imitation of coffee without sugar or cream, sow-belly and tough discolored without butter and one boiled potato, composed the diet.

"I jes got so, I couldn't bear t' go into de dinin' tent," said "Shine," "case I knowed I couldn't never git 'nuff t' eat in dere, and it aggravated mah stomach. At las' I couldn't stan' it no longer. I et three helpins o' p'tater and sow-belly and de boss fin' it out. Das how cum I back yeah so soon. Jes' had't eat, Jes' had't."

Weekly Comments on Things About Town.

An article in the Friday issue of The Sun is almost startling in the figures it quotes as to the extent of the moving picture craze among us. Americans go through their fads and crazes with about the same high pressure as everything else they attempt; but it is doubtful if there has been a fad that has assumed so large proportions, or loomed so great on the financial horizon as has this one. An estimated attendance of four million people each day means an expenditure of $200,000 for each day in the year not counting Sundays for this form of amusement. As a consequence it has come to the place when the question of the character of the pictures shown may become either a menace to our generation, or may become a means of enlightenment and education. But the syndicate controlling this amusement will give the public exactly the kind of picture that the public desires and nothing more. If we are content with the blood and thunder kind, the portrayal of crimes, the picturing of vice, then they will continue to give us such—but if instead of condemning the thing wholesale we demand that it give us the best rather than the worst, or even the mediocre, this stupendous enterprise may become a factor of really educational value. Everyone in Paducah can help in the cleansing process, by simply abstaining from any show which insists on still exhibiting any but the best class of pictures. For the sake of our children let us take an interest in this question.

To even discuss anything connected with death and burial, is to lay one's self open to misapprehension, and to criticize, seems to be like degeneration. But The Spectator, in all charity, would like to utter a protest against the almost universal practice of Sunday funerals. There are many legitimate things that seemingly speak in their favor, but on the other hand, are there not more things against the practice,—for practice it has become. Now that the summer weather is with us, the cemetery is more and more a place where people resort in large numbers on Sunday afternoons. Whether this is due to mere morbid curiosity, or simply to the absence of any park, we are not able to say. But the result is that there can no longer be a funeral on Sunday without a crowd of disinterested and often intrusive spectators, people who have been observed to rush pell mell from one part of the cemetery to another as one funeral cortege after another arrives. Thus that which should be the most solemn of family affairs has become almost a show for the curious and morbid. As long as the cemetery is public property, it must be open to all, and the only remedy for the evil is the abstaining from funerals on that day, except in cases of unavoidable necessity.

If we must have Sunday funerals, then why cannot the common council of the city pass an ordinance restricting admission to the cemetery on Sunday to lot owners, showing their ticket at the gate. This practice obtains in nearly every city of any size in the land and goes far to lessen the evil, though even this cannot abate it wholly.

School children have been jumping on moving trains and switch engines at the intersection of the railroad tracks on Broadway, and the police department has received two letters about the dangerous practice. The police have been instructed to break up the habit among the school children.

OLD RECORDS ARE SMASHED.

Cambridge, May 29.—So keen was the running, jumping and weight hurling in the preliminary events which ushered in the stadium, the intercollegiate games, that the outcome is more uncertain than for many years. A new pole vault record was established.

In the eleven preliminary events the number of men qualified by each college was: Harvard 16, Cornell 14, Yale 13, Pennsylvania and Princeton each 9; Michigan and Dartmouth 4 each, Syracuse 3, Columbia, Williams, Brown, Swatmore, Fordham and Haverford, 1 each.

Records Smashed.

Columbus, Ohio, May 29.—Records were smashed or equalled almost in every event at the annual athletic meet of the Big Six colleges. The first place went to the Ohio State college which had 49 points; Oberlin 43; Reserve 39½; Wesleyan 28, Wooster 5½; Kenyon 0.

Muff Portman, of Western Reserve, broke the Big Six records in both the hammer throw and shot put. He threw the hammer 123 feet 2 inches, which exceeds the record by two feet, six and one-half inches. In the 16 pound shot put, he put the weight 42 feet six and a half inches, breaking the record by three feet 8½ inches.

Baker, of Oberlin, made the one mile run in 4:25, seven seconds faster than the Big Six record. In the pole vault, Kimball, of Ohio State made 10 feet 11½ inches, one-half inch above the record.

DUN'S REVIEW.

Dun's Weekly Review

New York, May 29.—Progress slow but constant, is again the record of the week. The growth of business confidence is indeed more noticeable than the increase in the volume of trade, but the revival in iron and steel is of such remarkable dimensions as to justify the most hopeful outlook for the entire industrial and mercantile situation as soon as the tariff agitation is out of the way.

The period of crop uncertainty is, however, before us, but it is significant that, notwithstanding the lateness of spring, which has interfered not a little with certain lines of merchandise, and particularly with retail distribution, the weather conditions for crops are reported favorable and steadily improving.

In the primary dry goods market a better tone is manifest, although the level of raw material compels manufacturers to demand a higher level of prices than the buyers are as yet willing to pay. Western jobbers report better business for fall merchandise. In the woolen goods division duplicate orders are coming in slowly, owing to the radical advance, and attention is now concentrated on the coming season and the prices which it will be necessary to ask on spring goods. All domestic hide markets are dull but the entire situation is firm, with no further tendency toward an advance in prices.

Bank Clearings.

New York, May 29.—Total bank clearings compiled for Bradstreet's for the principal cities of the United States for the past week, $2,789,979,900 against $2,462,725,000 in the corresponding week last year.

Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c, and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. UNITE INTO ONE CHURCH.

Presbyterian Congregations at Dickson Decide to Consolidate.

Dickson, Tenn., May 29.—The members of the Southern Presbyterian church, this city, at a recent meeting, decided to consolidate with the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., here. These churches have been working together under one pastor for the past three years so harmoniously that to all intents and purposes they have heretofore been practically one. The united church will retain their present pastor, the Rev. W. T. Salmon, and will take steps at an early date to erect a church building on the lot where the old Presbyterian church now stands.

"What do you think of the present day styles?"
"I think they are all right. They enable a poor girl to look just as ridiculous as a rich girl."—Kansas City Journal.

JAMES S. SMALL DESERTER.

Man Held in Denmark in Connection With Guinness Case.

Portland, Me., May 29.—James Small, reported as having been arrested at Christiania, Norway, because of a confession, alleged to have been made by him and afterward denied, that he participated with Mrs. Belle Guinness in the murders committed near LaPorte, Ind., is believed to be James A. Small, of Isleboro, Me., a deserter from the United States army. Small deserted from Fort Wadsworth, N. Y., on August 17, 1906. He was apprehended at his home, tried here and served six months at Fort Probie. Shortly afterward he escaped and all trace of him was lost. A sister, Mrs. A. W. Field, of Isleboro, said that he never was in Indiana and could not have been implicated in the crimes there.

Night Riders in Dickson County.

Jackson, Tenn., May 29.—A leading citizen and property owner of Dickson is in receipt of a letter signed "Night Riders," warning him that unless, within the next ten days, he complies with certain requests, his property will be burned and other outrages perpetrated upon him. The affair has not at all apparently disturbed the quietude of the recipient, but he says he will try and be prepared for any attack upon him. The letter came through the mail and is evidently the handwriting of a woman.

SALOON PEOPLE ARE DEFEATED

Senate Refuses to Take Bill From Committee.

Anti-Cigarette Bill Also Killed by This Action—Brown Enraged at Failure of His Bill.

GOVERNING PERSONAL INJURY.

Springfield, Ill., May 29.—The saloon people have lost their fight in the senate to have house bill 659, amending the local option law by exempting cities and villages from the township feature, and permitting them to vote on the question of saloons independent of the township, the senate this afternoon voting down a resolution to suspend the rules and instruct the license committee to report out the bill. The motion received but 23 votes to 17 against. It required 34 votes to pass.

The anti-cigarette bill which passed the house is also killed by this action of the senate. The license committee was to have met at 7:30 o'clock to consider the anti-local option bill, but the senate adjourned before the committee met and if that body adjourns sine die as it is the intention, the bill is killed, as it would be only on second reading that it would require another day to pass it.

Brown Bill Killed.
The senate also killed house bill No. 717 providing that in personal injury cases against municipalities it shall not be necessary to set up in the declaration the fact that notice of the suit was filed within sixty days of the injury; Senator John Dailey, of Peoria, asserting that the bill was gotten up by Representative Brown, of LaSalle county, after he had lost a personal injury case after he had carried it to the supreme court, and Senator Bredt, of Cook county, declaring that the bill would cost the city of Chicago $100,000 per year if it became a law.

Brown Enraged.
The failure of this bill enraged Mr. Brown and he made a speech during the vote on the senate bill regarding public service corporations, in which he condemned what he declared were the "damnable conditions" existing in the senate and in which he declared the senators were a set of "supercilious cats." On motion of Tiptott all senate bills were tabled but later Tiptott withdrew his motion and it was decided to take up some of the senate measures.

YOUNG MEN WANTED.

Traveling Salesmen Earn From $2,000 to $10,000 a Year, and Expenses—Thousands Now Needed.

There is a man in Rochester, N. Y., who has successfully trained by mail thousands of inexperienced young men to become traveling salesmen, and secured them good positions. His method is so simple that any young man with ordinary education can master the subject in six weeks.

This man is president of the Bradstreet System, and any reader of the Sun who wants to be something in this world, should send today for his new book, "How to Succeed as a Salesman." The book is free. Write for it today to President Bradstreet System 244 Cornwall Building, Rochester, N. Y.

QUIET MILLIONAIRE DEAD

Comparatively Unknown and Leaves Estate Worth $50,000,000.

London, May 29.—Charles Morrison, a comparatively unknown millionaire, whose estate, it is estimated, is worth between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000, died today near Reading. He was 92 years old. With a maximum death duty of 15 per cent, as provided by the new budget, the government will receive from the estate more than $10,000,000. Most of the property consists of estates in Kent and Scotland. Mr. Morrison was a bachelor and a man of the most simple habits.

HARDWELL.

The contract for the erection of the school house in the Black's school district has again been transferred. This time it goes from H. M. Winslow to S. P. Vaughn.

Mrs. Mille Hogancamp and son, Hugh, arrived home Saturday from California, where they spent several months. Mrs. Hogancamp is improved in health, and Hugh has grown so that he could barely be recognized. Mrs. Tom C. Pettit went to St. Louis Monday to attend the graduation exercises at Forest Park University, which occurred Tuesday night. Her daughter, Miss Carleen Pettit, was one of the music graduates.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Roger Lovelace to Miss Ethel Cozart, which event will take place at Gulfport, Miss., Tuesday morning of next week. Mr. Lovelace is a son of J. H. Lovelace and wife, of this city, and is one of the most highly respected young men of this community. For the past several years he has been engaged in business at Gulfport. The bride and groom will arrive here during next week, and after June 20th they will be at home at Gulfport, of which city Mrs. Lovelace is a popular belle.

At Clinton the case of Marion Brumm, a young attorney of that city, vs. the Illinois Central railroad, in which the plaintiff sought the sum of $2,000 damages for alleged injuries received at the hands of officers of the railroad company, Judge Bugg ordered the case thrown out of court and placed the costs on the plaintiff. A jury later found Brumm guilty of assaulting railroad officers and his fine was placed at $50 and costs. The litigation grew out of the ejection of Brumm from a freight train last winter by Special Officers T. J. Cronin and Ed Gholson. At the time Brumm knocked Cronin in the head in the melee.

Mrs. G. J. Vaughn, north of town, is suffering severely with an attack of rheumatism during the past several days.

Mrs. E. J. Washburn, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jesse R. Niechoj, returned to her home at Paducah Friday afternoon.

There were twelve applicants for examination at the first county teachers' examination, held Friday and Saturday, and of that number five received first-class certificates, two second-class, two third-class and three failed entirely. The first-class certificates went to Robert Webb, Mrs. Tom Hall, Mrs. J. D. Franks, Virgil Lovelace and Miss Vera Magruder.

Mrs. M. E. Shavely and daughter, of Memphis, the former a sister of Mrs. John Grissom, arrived Tuesday afternoon to attend the burial of their nephew and cousin, John Grissom, Jr.

June 6th has been set apart by the local camp of Woodmen of the World to decorate the graves of fallen Woodmen who remain rest in Bardwell cemetery. A fraternal invitation is extended to members of all camps in the county to participate in the exercises.—Carlisle News.

Anty Drudge Explains Why the Waist Went into Holes.

Mrs. Don't—"I must have been cheated in that woolen waist. It pulled right into holes in the washtub."

Anty Drudge—"You wouldn't think you were cheated if you got a leg of mutton which boiled that tender. It was the boiling that weakened your waist just as it makes meat or vegetables tender. Stop boiling your clothes. Wash them with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, and they'll wear twice as long."

What are clothes made of?

Wool, cotton or linen, animal or vegetable fibre.

What does boiling or scalding do to them?

Makes them tender just as it does meat or vegetables.

What does hard rubbing on a wash-board do to them?

Wears them into holes before their time.

Are you abusing your clothes like that in the weekly wash?

Burning up fuel and working like a slave to do it?

There's a far better way to get clean clothes.

Let Fels-Naptha soap take the dirt out of them in cool or lukewarm water without boiling, without hard rubbing.

It saves the clothes—makes them last twice as long.

In summer or winter, it saves fuel, time, hard work, bother and discomfort.

Directions for the Fels-Naptha way of washing are printed on the back of the red and green wrapper.

Follow them carefully.

Welcome Words To Women

If you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest square-deal medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills. The makers of

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. Is this not a significant fact worthy of careful consideration?

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines sold by druggists for their peculiar weaknesses and ailments because it is

THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, is not anything like advertised secret compounds or patent medicines.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments and carefully adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside bottle-wrapper.

It's foolish—often dangerous to be over-persuaded into accepting a secret nostrum in place of this time-proven medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

BARRIER
By Rex Beach
Copyright, 1904, by Harper & Brothers

The men inside the house did not hear the boy crying Neela's name, for his voice was small, and they had gone to the rear of the store.

"Understand? You leave Runnon to me," Burrell was saying. "No man shall lay hands on him except me."
His voice trailed away. He rose slowly to his feet, a strange light on his face. The others turned to see what sight had drawn his eyes. In the opening, all splendid with the golden sunlight, stood Neela and Poleon Doret, who had her by the hand, and she was smiling.

Gale uttered a great cry and went to meet them, but the soldier could do nothing save his lips and stood dazed and disbelieving. He saw them dimly coming toward him and heard Poleon's voice as if at a great distance; saw that the Frenchman's eyes were upon him and that his words were directed to him.

"I bring her back to you, m'sieu!" Doret laid Neela's hand in that of her lover, and Burrell saw her smiling shyly up at him. Something gripped him chokingly, and he could utter no sound. There was nothing to say.
She was here, safe, smiling; that was all. And the girl, beholding the glory in his eyes, understood.

Gale caught her away from him then and buried her in his arms.
A woman came running into the store and, seeing the group, paused at the door—a shapeless, silent, shadowed figure in silhouette against the light.
The trader brought the girl to her foster mother, who began to talk in her own tongue with a rapidity none of them had ever heard before, her voice as tender as some wild bird's song.
Then the two women went away together around the store into the house.

Poleon had told Neela all the amazing story that had come to him that direful night, all that he had overheard all that he knew and much that he guessed.

The priest came into the store shortly, and the men fell upon him for information, for nothing was to be gained from Poleon, who seemed strangely fagged and weary and who had said but little.

"Yes, yes, yes," laughed Father Barnum. "I'll tell you all I know, of course, but first I must meet Lieutenant Burrell and take him by the hand."
The story did not lose in his telling, particularly when he came to describe the fight on the gravel bar which Poleon had told him little, but the good priest was of a militant turn, and his blue eyes glittered and flashed like an old crusader's.

"It was a wondrous combat," he declared, with all the spirit of a spectator, "for Poleon advanced hunched and beat him down even as the man fired into his face."
The Frenchman moved uneasily.
"Was, I don't know. He ain't fight so hard."

"You couldn't find no trace of him?"
said Lee.

"No trace whatever," Father Barnum replied, "but he will surely reach some place of refuge where we can pick him up, for the days are still mild and the woods full of berries."

"I'll be on the lookout for him," said
the lieutenant grimly.

When the voluble old priest had at last exhausted his narrative he requested of Burrell the privilege of a few words and drew him apart from the others. His face was warm with understanding.

"I had a long conversation with my little girl, for she is like a daughter to me, and I discovered the depth of her love for you. Do you love her as much as you should?"

"As much as I can. They don't make words or numbers big enough to tell you how dear she is to me."

"Then why delay? Tomorrow I leave again, and one never knows what a day may bring forth."

"But Stark?" the young man cried.
"He's her father, you know. He's like a madman, and she's still under age."

"I know very little of law outside of the church," the father observed; "but, as I understand it, if she marries before he forbids her the law will hold him powerless. Now, he has never made himself known to her, he has never forbidden her anything, and, although my conclusion may not be correct, I believe it is, and you have a chance if you make haste. At your age, my boy, I never needed a spur."

"A spur? Good Lord! I'm from Kentucky!"

"Once she is yours before God you hold will be stronger in the eyes of men. If I am wrong and he takes her from you—well, may some other priest reward you two. I shan't."

"Don't worry," laughed Burrell, ablate at the thought. "You're the only preacher who'll kiss my bride, for I'm a jealous man, and all the Starks and all the fathers in the world won't get her away from me. Do you think she'll do it?"

"A woman in love will do anything."
Burrell seized the little man by the hand. "If I had known more law you needn't have given me this hint."

Together they went into the trader's house.
Back in the store there was silence after the priest and the soldier went out, which Gale broke at last:
"This forgiveness talk is all right, I suppose, but I want Runnon."
"We'll get him, too," growled Lee, at which Poleon uttered a curt exclamation:
"No!"
"Why not?" said the miner.
"Was," the Canadian drawled slow-

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS.

The ardent controversy which has

TENNESSEE HAS ONE
FEMALE DEPUTY SHERIFF.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 29.—Tennessee has one female deputy sheriff in the person of Mrs. J. J. Bork, wife of Esquire J. J. Bork. The distinction was conferred upon her by Sheriff Sam Conner because of her nerve and bravery in the arrest of a negro prowler. Mrs. Bork was alone at her home when she discovered a negro prowling in the vicinity of her poultry pens, and, after waiting until he had attempted to steal a choice springer, Mrs. Bork presented a revolver in his face, informed the astonished negro that he was under arrest. County authorities were notified and the negro was lodged in jail.
When the time came for the case to go before the grand jury Mrs. Bork had the pleasure of summoning the witnesses subpoenaed to appear.

ARE OPPOSED TO STATE-WIDE

Louisville Men Adopt Resolutions at Board of Trade.

Believe the Movement Endangers Industry and Threatens State's Prosperity.

SET FORTH THEIR VIEWS

Louisville, May 29.—At a meeting held in board of trade hall resolutions were adopted opposing the movement for state-wide prohibition.
Accompanying the resolutions were the names of about 300 bankers, business men and professional men of Louisville. Many of them were not present at the meeting, but Mr.
W. H. Newman, who was one of those who arranged the meeting, said that all had been seen and informed of the object of the meeting, and had expressed approval of the resolutions and authorized the use of their names.

The Resolutions.
The text of the resolutions as adopted follows:

First—We note with concern a movement destructive of the state's largest industry and setting an example involving danger to all property rights.

Second—We deplore and uncerservedly condemn saloon domination in politics, and favor its extirpation at any cost and we appreciate the provocation afforded by such abuses to conscientious persons to advocate prohibition, but we deny the wisdom or honesty of a proceeding to destroy property of so enormous value as a sheer experiment, tried repeatedly with more or less failure, and often after trial abandoned as unsuccessful.

Third—We unqualifiedly condemn as vicious and dishonest in principle, and destructive of that liberty which constitutes, and must always constitute, the basis of free government, the boycott, which has too often disgraced the methods of both prohibitionists and liquor men.

Fourth—The liquor business employs a vast amount of capital and labor, and brings a large amount of foreign capital to this state, and it is an industry upon which the state depends for a large proportion of its revenue, and which pays very largely to the support of our various counties and municipalities.

Fifth—The destruction of this industry, legalized by the state from its organization, without compensation, would be plain dishonesty, and would reflect upon its good name handed down to us by our forefathers and which we should pass on to our posterity untarnished. If compensation should be provided it would require the issuing of approximately $70-000,000 of bonds by the state. To meet the interest on such an increased indebtedness would require an increase of at least 100 per cent in the taxes levied upon all other forms of property, besides an increase of 23 1-3 per cent in the tax rate on all remaining property to meet the loss of tax on this business.

Sixth—It would divert from the state of Kentucky to other states,
such as Illinois and Pennsylvania,
where this industry is especially encouraged, the largest business and the greatest source of revenue of our state, and would yet permit the individual by subterfuge legally to obtain outside of Kentucky what he could not obtain legally in Kentucky, thus violating one of the fundamental principles of political economy.

Manufacturing and Exports.

Less than one-tenth of the manufactures of the United States are exported, while those imported equal in stated value about one-twentieth that of the home product.

This statement is a result of a comparison of the figures of production, exportation and importation of manufactures in the United States presented by the statistical abstract of the United States, about to be issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor.

The census of 1905 shows the gross value of the factory product of manufactures in 1904 at 14,892 million dollars, and estimates the value of all other manufactures, mechanical and neighborhood, at about 2 billions, making the gross value of all manufactures produced in the United States in 1904, 16,867 million dollars. This gross valuation, however, includes many duplications, because the products reported by one manufacturer often become the manufacturing material of another, who also includes their cost in the report of value of the products of his factory. By deducting from the gross valuation the value of this manufacturing material used in a partly manufactured form, the census office states the net or true value of the manufactures of the country in the census this year. This process reduces the valuation of the factory product of 1904 from the gross figure of 14,892 millions, to a net valuation of 9,821 millions; and an application of the same method of reduction to the non-factory manufactures would place the net value of all manufactures in 1904 at 10,892 million dollars. The census of 1900, which reported the gross value of all manufactures in 1899 at 13,014 million dollars, placed the net value for that year at 8,371 millions.

The bureau of statistics figures show that the exportation in the year ended June 30, 1905, of all articles classed by the census as manufactures amounted in value to 895 million dollars, a sum which equals 8.2 per cent of the 10,892 millions estimated as the net value of all manufactures in 1904. The imports of the year ended June 30, 1905, of all articles similar to those classed by the census as manufactures were valued at 576 million dollars, which equals 5.3 per cent of the net value of the domestic manufactures of 1904.

Even these figures, which show that the valuation of the manufactures exported equals 8.2 per cent of the valuation of manufactures produced, and that the valuation of the manufactures imported equals 5.3 per cent of the valuation of the manufactures produced, are, however, only approximate, in an attempt to determine the true relation of imports or exports of manufactures to the home production. The valuation of manufactures supplied to the census office by the various manufacturers, states the value of the product at the place of production; while the bureau of statistics figures of exportations state the wholesale market value of the article at the port from which exported. Thus the stated values of the articles exported are doubtless in most cases higher than the stated values of the same articles in the place of production, since the cost of transportation and dealers' profits are presumably added in the valuations at which the domestic merchandise in question is wholesaled at the various ports whose current prices determine the valuation placed upon the articles when exported. On the other hand, the values of the imported articles quoted by the bureau of statistics are by law "the actual market values or wholesale prices of such merchandise in the principal markets of the country whence imported," and if freights and profits are added to this figure the valuation at the point where it actually enters the United States would be somewhat in excess of that quoted. Thus the values of manufactures produced are those of the place of production, the figures of exports are those of the wholesale markets of the port from which exported and those of imports are those of the wholesale market of the country whence imported. Could production, exports and imports be brought to a common basis of valuation, the percentage which exports bear to the total production would be slightly reduced and that which imports bear to the total production would be slightly increased; and the percentages which exports and imports, respectively, bear to the total production would become even more nearly identical than those above quoted, of 8.2 per cent on the export side and 5.3 per cent on the import side.

The share exported of the manufactures of the country seems to have slowly but steadily increased. The gross valuation of manufactures produced was, speaking in very round terms, in 1850, 1 billion dollars; in 1860, 4½ billions; in 1870, 4¼ billions; in 1880, 5 1-3 billions; in 1890, 9 1-3 billions; in 1900, 13 billions; and in 1905, 16½ billions. Reducing these gross valuations to net value at the same ratio as that indicated by the census reduction of 1900, the net value of manufactures in 1850 would stand at 2 3 of 1 billion dollars; in 1860 at 1¼ billions; in 1870 at 2¾ billions; in 1880 at 3¼ billions; in 1890 at 6 billions; in 1900 at 8 1-3 billions; and in 1905 at a little less than 11 billions. The exportation of all articles now classed by the census as manufactures was in 1850, 43 million dollars; in 1860, 87 millions; in 1870, 165 millions (currency values); in 1880, 415 millions; in 1890, 404 millions; in 1900, 803 millions, and in 1905, 895 millions.

These figures of net products and exports, when compared statistically, show that the exports equaled in 1850, 6.6 per cent of the figures of net production; in 1860, 7.2 per cent; in 1870, 5.9 per cent; in 1880, 9.1 per cent; in 1890, 6.7 per cent; in 1900, 9.6 per cent, and in 1905, 8.2 per cent. That the exportation has grown even more rapidly than the production is also apparent from a comparison of the figures of 1905 with those of 1850, since the production of manufactures in 1905 was practically seventeen times as great as that of 1850, while the exportation of manufactures in 1905 was twenty-one times as great as in 1850.

On the import side the ratio of imports of manufactures to production has steadily fallen. Imports of all articles now included by the census classification of manufactures amounted in 1850 to 143 million dollars, in 1860 to 267 millions, in 1870 to 433 millions (currency values), in 1880 to 426 millions, in 1890 to 481 millions, in 1900 to 576 millions, and in 1905 to 576 millions. The percentage which imports of manufactures bore to production of manufactures was, in 1850, 21.8 per cent; in 1860, 22 per cent; in 1870, 15.9 per cent; in 1880, 12.3 per cent; in 1890, 8 per cent; in 1900, 5.6 per cent; and in 1905, 5.3 per cent.

Happy graduates of the county school with their friends and teachers left this morning on the steamer Dick Fowler for a day's outing on the river. The graduates were guests of the County Alumni association and the boat party had a pleasant day. The trip was made to Cairo. Dinner was carried by the graduates. The boat will return tonight at 9 o'clock. Last night the commencement exercises were held at the college at Lone Oak, and a large audience was present. Miss Nannie Ragwell delivered the salutatory. "Push On," the class motto, being her subject. Miss Munier Ragdale spoke on "Kentucky." The stage was prettily decorated and the forty-five graduates on the stage made a pretty scene. After a short speech the diplomas were presented by Prof. S. J. Billington.

FOOT CUT OFF

J. EDWARD PARKER MEETS
WITH ACCIDENT.Was Picking Up His Hat in North Illinois Central Yards When Struck.

While picking up his hat, J. Edward Parker, engine foreman in the river front and north yards of the Illinois Central railroad, was struck by a string of cars, and his right foot mangled and two toes cut off the left foot. After the accident he was carried to the Illinois Central hospital, where his right foot was amputated and his injuries were dressed. His back was wrenched in the accident.

Parker was directing the work of switching cars when his hat dropped off his head. He reached down to pick it up from between the tracks and a string of box cars struck him and knocked him down between the rails. The wheel of the first truck ran over his right foot and crushed two toes on the left. With presence of mind Parker seized the truss bars and drew his body along the track and saved his body from further injury. His cries were heard and the train was stopped and he was given assistance.

Parker is 40 years old and came to Paducah two years ago from Mobile, Ala., where he has a wife and two children.
